Fast-track to Spain hopes

Indie band bid to play at major music fest

By PETE MAGILL

NEED VOTES: Indie-rock quartet A New Breed of Monkey hope to secure a slot at the world-renowned Benicassim music festival

An East Lancashire indie band could soon be playing alongside rock heavyweights Kasabian and Vampire Weekend as they make a bid to play at one of Europe's biggest musical events.

Burnley and Pendle-based indie-rock quartet A New Breed of Monkey are hoping to beat off the competition in the 2010 Supajam Fast Track to FIB competition to secure a slot at the world-renowned Benicassim music festival.

The festival, held annually in north-western Spain, has played host to a multitude of musical talent in the past, with bands such as Oasis, Franz Ferdinand and The Strokes all performing.

The band, who cite maudlin Manchester outift The Smiths, as well as Oasis and Kings of Leon as major influences, consists of bassist Joe Burke, 23, his brother Matthew Burke, 27, who is the band's frontman, their cousin and drummer Jordan Watson, 24, and lead guitarist Jamie Robinson, 24.

Having already played several notable UK venues, including the Manchester Academy, Birmingham's Carling Academy, and Liverpool's Cavern Club, the band are ready for wider recognition in Europe and hope this competition could provide the ideal platform to launch them to success.

Drummer Jordan said: "We'd love to go and play the festival. So many great bands have played there in the past that we all look up to. Obviously it would be really helpful for us getting our name about and achieving more recognition.

"I think we deserve to win the competition as, even though there are a lot of indie bands around, they are all very monotonous and we like to think we're original and bring something different."

To win the competition they need to secure as many votes as possible by supporters visiting www.supajam.com/fib2010/entries

Anyone wishing to hear the band a little closer to home can see them at Colne Municipal Hall on Friday, April 23, as part of a Battle of the Bands event.

Life-saving detectors for homes

More than 4,400 homes in Burnley are set to be fitted with free carbon monoxide detectors by a landlord.

People living in Calico homes will receive the device over the next 12 months from the owners of Burnley's former council housing stock.

The move will help to avoid deaths like that of 75-year-old Elizabeth Mulrooney, who died after her flue became blocked in August 2008. The grandmother was overcome by carbon monoxide fumes in the living room of her Haven Street home.

Speaking about the Calico programme, investment head Adele Livesey said: "These detectors will be fitted during every annual gas visit we make, in addition to the free gas safety checks we carry out to each home during the year. The detectors are maintenance free and will be fitted in a location close to gas appliances.

"They will help improve the safety of our customers' homes by alerting them to any potential danger of carbon monoxide."

SAFETY: Calico customer Marian Brown receives her carbon monoxide detector from gas servicing engineer Graham Jackson

Ballot box battle gets under way

By PETE MAGILL

Campaigning is under way for crucial town hall elections across East Lancashire.

Burnley, Pendle and Rossendale Councils all go to the polls on May 6, the same day as the General Election.

Burnley Lib Dem council leader Coun Gordon Birtwistle will defend his Coal Clough with Deerplay borough council seat against Tory Paul Coates, Labour's Alexander McLachlan, and the BNP's Christopher Vanns, while also bidding to become the borough's MP. His party is the largest single one at Burnley.

If either Coun Birtwistle, or Labour leader Coun Julie Cooper, who represents Bank Hall, are successful in the General Election, they will vacate any seat and trigger a by-election. In Queensgate, two seats will be up for grabs. Coun Darren Reynolds will seek re-election and a further position was created by the death of Coun Bill Bennett. Ex-county councillor Marcus Johnstone and Marion Smith lead Labour's fight, Arthur Coates stands for the Tories, and John Rowe is the BNP candidate. Six parties will battle for superiority in Lib Dem-controlled Pendle. Labour leader Coun Mohammed Iqbal faces four challengers in Nelson's Bradley ward, including Wajed Iqbal (Respect), David Geddes (England First), Tanzil Ahmed (Lib Dem), and Timothy Eyre (Con).

Burnley-born actor Sir Ian McKellen returns to our screens on ITV1 on Saturday for the re-imagining of the cult 1960s show The Prisoner.

Set in a mysterious town known only as The Village, The Prisoner follows the hero, known as Six, as he tries to understand the Machiavellian mind of Two, the charismatic and seemingly cruel head of The Village, and escape back to the "real world". Two is played by Sir Ian, who has gone on to become one of the most highly-regarded actors of all time.

Even chemo won't stop dedicated mayor

THROAT CANCER: Burnley Mayor Coun John Harbour

By JON LIVESEY

Burnley's mayor has returned to some civic duties as he continues his treatment for throat cancer.

But Coun John Harbour said he was keeping engagements to a minimum while he battles with six weeks of gruelling radiotherapy and chemotherapy.

Coun Harbour, who works at Darwen Vale High School, underwent an operation at Royal Blackburn Hospital in February.

He said: "I have done one or two engagements, but I have other priorities at the moment. I do the odd one, but I can't do any more really.

"I am three weeks into a six-week course of treatment, going to Preston five times a week for radiotherapy and chemotherapy.

"It is difficult, but it is the same for everybody. Fingers crossed I will get the all-clear at the end of the treatment.You have to be optimistic about it.

"The treatment I have received has been first rate, both at Blackburn and Preston."

Coun Harbour said he has been overwhelmed by the support he has had since his illness

"One good thing is that it reaffirms your belief in people," he said. "I really appreciate how people have rallied around.

"I have had amazing support from my family and friends and from everyone in the borough. They have been fantastic."

Coun Harbour also praised the support from his colleagues at Darwen Vale, where he is a learning mentor.

Office under hammer

The former register office in Burnley will be sold for at least £165,0000, says a Preston-based auction firm.

Once home to wedding ceremonies and the county council's education offices, the Nicholas Street site has been empty for the past year.

It will go under the hammer on April 22 at Manchester United's Old Trafford ground. Pugh and Company auctioneers have received a reserve bid of £165,000.

The new register office is in Todmorden Road.

New book by crime writer

THRILLER: Stephen Booth

By TYRONE MARSHALL

East Lancashire's answer to Sherlock Holmes creator Arthur Conan Doyle is taking the literary world by storm with his latest crime thriller.

Stephen Booth, who was born in Burnley, has just released Lost River, the 10th book in a series featuring Derbyshire detectives Ben Cooper and Diane Fry.

His books, all set in the Peak District, have been published all around the world and have won the author several awards.

"I am constantly surprised by the success I have had," he said.

"I have been writing full-time for 10 years now and I never really imagined this.

"My books are very English, set in English locations with real English characters and a lot of colloquial language, so I never really understand why they are so popular in, say, Russia and Japan."

The latest book focuses on the drowning of an eight-year-old girl in the fictional town of Dovedale, with Cooper becoming involved with the girls family, and suspecting one of them harbours a secret.

Meanwhile, Fry makes a journey back to her roots and finds herself drawn into an investigation among the inner city streets of Birmingham.

Mr Booth, who is contracted to write a book a year, is taking time off before deciding what to do next. He said: "I've left my options open with this book, it could go anywhere now really.

"To me the characters seem real, they are like my friends they have spent so long in my head. I don't really have to think about them any more. I know all about them and what they are like, I just let them do what they want to do."

Mr Booth, who went to school in Blackpool and now lives in Nottinghamshire, wrote his first novel when he was just 12. "I've always known I wanted to do this," he said. "I love this job, it's fantastic."

The Cooper and Fry series has had interest from several TV companies as well.

● Lost River, priced at £17.99, is available from most bookshops.

Postmen in charity run

By TYRONE MARSHALL

Six posties from Burnley are aiming to deliver vital funds for Pendleside Hospice by taking part in the Pennine Lancashire 10k run.

Ian Gerrity, Mark Greenwood, William Harbour, Shaun O'Brien, Alan Smith, and Ian Carrington, will hit the streets of Blackburn on July 11 to raise awareness of, and support for, the hospice.

Mr Gerrity said: "Nearly everybody knows someone who has suffered from cancer and Pendleside do a brilliant job. My wife works there so I know how hard the staff work and they deserve all the help and support they can get."

The run, which is being backed by our sister newspaper, the Lancashire Telegraph, is being organised by Mike Tomlinson, husband of Jane Tomlinson CBE, a mum of three who set up the Run for All charity after being diagnosed with breast cancer in 2003.

The lads are all encouraging their family and friends to sponsor them to raise funds for the hospice, which provides specialist care to people in Burnley and Pendle with life-limiting illnesses.

Firm gives cadets a home

A deal to house Burnley, Pendle and Rossendale's police cadets has been extended for another year by a manufacturer.

Chief Insp Jeff Brown has welcomed a new 28-strong intake for the divisional cadets force, based at VEKA, in Faringdon Road, Burnley.

Cadets used to meet at a nearby factory, but the premises closed down and the double glazing firm stepped in two years ago. Detachment meetings take place in the conference room and exercises on the company car park.

Twelve of the new intake are from Burnley, 10 from Rossendale, and six from Pendle, and they will work alongside four senior cadets on a 38-week training course.

Cadet co-ordinator PC Chris Collett said: "The cadet scheme is a fantastic opportunity for young people to find out what goes on behind the scenes at Lancashire Constabulary and learn valuable new skills."

Cost fear as Tesco to appeal

By PETE MAGILL

A decision to reject a Tesco supermarket in Padiham could end up costing Burnley taxpayers £100,000, councillors have been warned.

Town councillors and traders mounted a successful campaign against plans by the supermarket giant to open up premises at the former Baxi site between Lune Street and Wyre Street.

More than 900 protest letters and petition signatures were gathered against the plans, which had been recommended for approval by town hall planning officers.

Now an appeal has been lodged by Tesco, via its agents Maple Grove Developments, which is expected to be heard by an inspector later this year.

Coun Peter Doyle, leader of the borough council's Tory group, said at a full council meeting: "The council's head of planning is advising that the cost of the appeal being made by Tesco is going to cost Burnley taxpayers £100,000, and possibly an awful lot more. I just wonder what action the executive member for resources is going to take and what cuts she will make to pay for this substantial budget item?"

COUN DOYLE

Deputy council leader Coun Margaret Lishman, cabinet resources member, said the indicative costs for the appeal were still "speculative".

The development control committee was non-political and was not controlled by any one party group, she added. "We will have to wait and see what happens. But when we know the extent of the costs we will be clear on how they can be funded," said Coun Lishman.

The Tesco bid was turned down over potential traffic problems and impact on businesses in Padiham town centre.

Parking patrols

Police and traffic enforcement officers are to monitor parking around the shops in Briercliffe, Burnley, during the day after complaints of vehicles parking on double yellow lines outside.

Lost Letter: Groucho Marx said...

T N I T D R M T
N E L A E A E S
C N M I R L I G C Y C O
I O I T L I T I R N I E N

In this puzzle, a famous or popular quotation fills the grid. The individual letters remain in their correct column, but have fallen out and are out of order. Reinsert them in the correct order to find the answer. Punctuation is given in its own square. This quotation is from Groucho Marx.

Last week's quote, from Edward de Bono, was: "Unhappiness is best defined as the difference between our talents and our expectations."

HOROSCOPES with Claire Petulengro

Aries March 21st-April 20th

I know you have been worrying about the issues which are out of your control, but according to this weeks line up, you are set to be pleasantly surprised my friend. New ways, to get on with stubborn family members, help to make your week a much smoother one. Call me now to hear which sign is talking pregnancies and babies.

Call: 0906 585 4516

Taurus April 21st-May 21st

You think you can't trust your instincts, but you are wrong. You will soon see that your recent dramatics have forced you to do a lot of growing up, and you are now a much wiser soul. In fact, this week your life starts to take on a sense of direction, and for once you're the one in control. Call me now to hear about tomorrow today.

Call: 0906 585 4517

Gemini May 22nd-June 21st

Family have not been as understanding as you had hoped recently. One of the problems though Gemini, is that they don't actually know the whole story. Whether or not you tell them what is going on is up to you, but just remember that half a story is unlikely to get you a whole answer in return. Call now for a message from Venus.

Call: 0906 585 4518

Cancer June 22nd-July 23rd

What you want out of life is no longer the same as it was this time last year. You will get support from some faces and none from others. You have to accept this fact and move on, for at least you are doing what you want now instead of what others deemed 'the right thing.' Ring me now to hear how Neptune brings messages via your dreams.

Call: 0906 585 4519

Leo July 24th-August 23rd

Last week saw you being backed into a corner, but this week you see what needs to be done in order to rectify this fact. You may have to fall out with an older face, but as long as you keep respect to the fore, then this should not cause you any long-term trouble. Don't lead on that face you don't really want. Call me now to prioritise.

Call: 0906 585 4520

Virgo August 24th-Sept 23rd

It's time to sit down and do some proper sums. You are only making trouble for yourself if you ignore the real facts. Time spent with Librans opens up a whole new world of opportunity for you socially, and even romantically! Text messages and e-mails this week can change the course of your career. Ring now for more hot news.

Call: 0906 585 4521

Libra Sept 24th-October 23rd

You've been cornered into something you don't want to do, and you're not sure if you feel in control of life. Try to take a step back and look at the long-term possibilities, rather than just the short-term effects. It's the only way you'll stand a chance at making the right decision. Call to hear how your house of love promises excitement.

Call: 0906 585 4522

Scorpio October 24th-Nov 22nd

What responsibilities do you have for that person from your past? You have already helped them more than most of the other signs would. Mars wants you to make progress on your own life this week, and it's time that you prioritised, before you lose the right to choose altogether. Call now to hear fresh exciting options in love.

Call: 0906 585 4523

Sagittarius Nov 23rd-Dec 21st

This is the week you start to separate the false friends from the real ones. You won't be suffering fools gladly, and if you no longer want to spend time in someone's company, you'll be making it more than a little plain to them how you feel. Ring me now to hear why it's worth keeping the home in order in the seven days ahead.

Call: 0906 585 4524

Capricorn Dec 22nd-Jan 20th

The bad air that has been in the home is finally becoming a thing of the past. You are able to move on from the issues, which you and I know made for such a difficult month in March. New faces enter your career, and offer you friendships, which are set to last for years. Call now to hear why it's worth accepting upcoming apologies.

Call: 0906 585 4525

Aquarius Jan 21st-Feb 19th

If you have important tests or exams to sit in the coming seven days, then you can proceed with confidence. Your thinking is sharp, and you'll be able to relax with the knowledge that other major areas of your life are finally slotting in to place. It's taken a while, but you're finally coming full circle. Call me now for more on this exciting time.

Call: 0906 585 4526

Pisces Feb 20th-March 20th

Your temper is improving. You are starting to realise that certain approaches do not work to your advantage. You're listening to your instincts again, and it can only be of benefit to you. Repeating gossip, you hear this weekend, will come back on you. Say nothing unless it pertains directly to your life. Call now for direction and support.

It's more good news for Russell

Russell Howard is one of the UK's most successful live comedians having played to 58,000 fans over nine nights on his recent UK arena tour. He also has two best-selling DVDs to his name. He returns to BBC Three this spring with a new series of Russell Howard's Good News.

60 SECONDS WITH ... RUSSELL HOWARD

ARE YOU NATURALLY QUITE POLITICALLY AWARE AND INTERESTED IN THE NEWS?

Not really – I got into it gradually. It was doing Mock The Week that made me more politically aware. I started taking more of an interest trawling through the papers. But that's a weird one, because it's not the things you would expect that make you mad. You get angry at the way things are presented rather than the way things actually are – the way some newspapers try and make people angry. I can't help but think the world would be a better place if a lot of them were burned.

YOUR SHOW ISN'T AS CYNICAL AS ITS COMPETITORS. ARE YOU CONSCIOUS OF BEING FIRST AND FOREMOST A COMEDY PROGRAMME?

Oh, absolutely. For all the things that make you angry, if you can't come up with jokes and you're just grunting about the Daily Mail, it's not exactly original. I like a nice mix of throwing rocks at things that deserve it, along with telling you a funny story.

IS YOUR FIRST LOVE STILL STAND-UP COMEDY?

I love what I'm doing now. I think you can do more with this than you can with stand-up, which is why I love it. You're creating a body of work and it's all go, go, go. With stand-up sometimes you can just fall back and perform the same hour or hour-and-a-half for a year.

Story of the blues

By KATE TURNER

The stage is set for the return of Colne's Great British R&B Festival marking the 21st anniversary of the UK's biggest blues festival.

A star-studded line-up of world-class artists has been announced for the four-day event on the August Bank Holiday weekend.

The town will again be a Mecca for music lovers to soak up the atmosphere and watch world-renowned acts. The Great British R&B Festival is well established in both the UK and international festival calendar, with eight music venues including supporting roadhouse stages.

Organisers say this year's event, sponsored by Nelson firm Barnfield Construction, will bring more blues, more entertainment and more talent for the special anniversary.

Alison Goode, of Pendle Leisure Trust, said: "We are planning additional attractions to complement the eight official music venues such as a fairground, street entertainers, continental market and official street buskers to add to the street atmosphere.

"The first festival started off as just one venue, the Muni, and as the reputation grew additional venues and stages were added such as the British Stage at Pendle Leisure Centre."

This year's International Stage features performances from the likes of Fleetwood Mac's Peter Green and fellow British R&B veteran Georgie Fame. There are also appearances from Sandi Thom who had a hit with "I Wish I Was a Punk Rocker (With Flowers in My Hair) and Texas based blues-rock band Omar and The Howlers.

On Friday the festival kicks off with a rock feel with sets from The Hamsters, Dr Feelgood, and Eddie & The Hot Rods all on The International Stage, with performances from 20-plus acts over the following three days. The British Stage sees performances from blues guitarist Sean Webster, Chantel McGregor and The Hitchers, with the full line-up yet to be confirmed.

New for this year will be the introduction of the Jessica Foxley Stage, in memory of the 21-year-old Colne Muni box office worker and budding singer who died last summer. Auditions are under way to select a handful of local R&B bands to showcase.

INTERNATIONAL STAGE: Peter Green

Meriel, Maribeth and the Marathon Meriel and Maribeth two Accrington sisters,
Are training hard through pain and blisters
For the last 7 years they have lived 5000 miles apart,
But on the 25th of April, at the London Marathon, together they will start.
Their aim is to raise over three grand,
And into the Elizabeth Finn Trust the proceeds will land.
A charity which supports families in need,
Giving them the will to live and the funds to feed.
Sponsorship money is coming in thick and fast. My lovely daughters can't afford to be last.
If you wish to sponsor them please follow quick and easy instructions on www.justgiving/bethandmeriel.
I will personally donate £100 for every car sold this week-its soo much easier than doing the run.
